EUROPE.

A RENT IN THE CLOUD.

Peace Prospects---Concessions in Prospectu---The Powers Smile with Hands on Sword-Hilts---Rioting in Moscow.

LONDON, April 19.—The correspondent of the Times at St. Petersburg says: The situation is decidedly pacific. In official circles it is believed that Germany's meditation will very likely be successful, and the Congress will soon assemble. It will probably be preceded by a preliminary conference of Ambassadors at Berlin, which is expected to decide that invitations to the Congress shall be issued to consider the modifications necessary in the treaties of 1856 and 1871. It is confidently anticipated that some such formula will be accepted in both London and St. Petersburg. The meeting of the Congress would dispate many difficulties.

A special to the Daily Telegraph, from Pera, announces that eighteen Russian battalions have arrived at Derkos from Adrianople.

England has bought a large quantity of grain in Trieste, and ordered it to be stored at Smyrna.

A special to the Times, from Kalafat, reports a slight collision between the Roumanians and Russians. At Lorn Palanka blows were exchanged.

The tenor of the news this morning from the various capitals is peaceful, but does not quite confirm the positive announcements published here yesterday.

The Times comments on a special despatch from St. Petersburg, published in that paper this morning, to the effect that a belief prevails in official circles that German meditation is likely to be successful and that the Congress will soon meet, a preliminary conference of ambassadors at Berlin deciding that invitations shall be issued to consider the modifications necessary in treaties of 1856 and 1871. That it is confidently expected that some such formula will be accepted in both London and St. Petersburg, it says: "We cannot not afford any more engagements of imperfect accuracy. It is necessary therefore for the present to entertain with reserve the encouraging hopes held out to us by the mediation now offered, and however hopeful may have been the preliminary interchange of views, it will also be necessary for our government to consider with great care the specific proposition which is made to them." The same article considers that no alarm need be aroused by the proclamation of the Queen prohibiting the export from this country of war materials. Such prohibition it says is a necessary precaution so long as we are compelled to contemplate the possibility of having to assert our interests by force.

LONDON, April 19.—A despatch to the the Daily News from Athens says: "It is now certain that the Thessalian insurrection is a complete failure. The Greeks have lost all heart for a further effort, and rely now wholly on England."

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says Ahmed Veiyk Effendi, whom the Sultan dismissed from the positions of President of the Council and Minister of the Interior, advocated an immediate alliance with England, while other Ministers and the Sultan favored neutrality for the present.

The Times' Pera correspondent says: Sadyk Pasha, who succeeds Ahmed Veiyk Effendi, is fairly capable, but in weak health—his tendencies in foreign politics are such as to render his appointment likely to affect the Court's relations with either Russia or England.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times thinks Gen. Todleben's appointment to command at San Stefano may be the first step towards effecting the compromise suggested by Prince Bismarck, touching the position near Constantinople. That is, the simultaneous withdrawal of the British fleet from the sea of Mermora and the Russians from the neighborhood of Constantinople.

A special to the Times from Berlin says: Russia is willing to discuss all clauses in the treaty of San Stefano, but does not conceal her determination to defend its principal positions, sword in hand if necessary.

A correspondent of the Times at Kalafat, telegraphs that the hostile feeling between Russians and Roumanians, is increasing. Preparations are making to transfer the military stores and State archives from Bucharest to Turkleverin. Affairs at Lom and Palanka illustrate the feeling. The Roumanians, it appears, placed a flag on a Turkish vessel which they sank during the war, and were proceeding to operations for raising the vessel when a number of Russians came in small boats and tore down the flag, blows being exchanged.

A special despatch to the Standard from Berlin says: Private advices from Moscow, state that three thousand students and workmen were involved in the disturbance of the fifteenth inst. Twelve were killed and twenty-five wounded, and a hundred arrested.

BERLIN, April 19.—The statement of the "Central News," of London, yesterday, that the powers have agreed to Prince Bismarck's suggestion that the ambassadors at Berlin should hold a Conference to arrange the course of proceedings at the proposed Congress, time of meeting, etc., and that the respective governments have been formally requested to instruct their ambassadors accordingly, is premature; and although there is no doubt that the lately existing tension of diplomatic relations has diminished, and the chances of the Conference assembling have certainly increased.

BOMBAY, April 19.—The force to be sent from India to Malta will be commanded as follows: 1st Brigade by Gen. Ross; 2nd Brigade by General Mac Pherson; Cavalry by Major Watson, and Sappers and Miners by Major Prendergast, General Ross left Calcuta last evening, for Malta.

LONDON, April, 19.—A Reuters' despatch from Constantinople says the Porte addressed a note to Grand Duke Nicholas explaining the conditions of the promise made by Turkey to evacuate Shumla, Varna and Batoum. It says a great part of the garrisons of these places have already been withdrawn. The treaty of peace does not fix any definite period for evacuation, and moreover the positions respectively occupied now are conformable to the provisions of armistice. The Porte promises that in proportion as the new Bulgarian Territory is evacuated by Russians, in accordance with the treaty, Turkey will successively surrender one fortress after another. It is rumored that the Russians intend to stipulate for a certain date for the evacuation of Batoum, threatening otherwise to occupy Kavak on the Bosphorus. The Arsenal of Tophan has been removed to Scutari.

International Sunday School Convention.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 19.—The third day's proceedings of the Sunday School Convention were marked by several very interesting incidents.

The morning session was occupied by the discussion of the general theme of promotion of Sunday School work.

Dr Plumer, of Columbia, South Carolina, made a fine address on the condition of the negroes in the South, urging their claims upon religious care.

The Massachusetts delegation requested the honor of shaking hands with the speaker.

The following were reported as the International Lesson Committee for the next seven years: Rev John H Vincent, D D, New Jersey, Methodist; Rev Jno Hall, New York, Presbyterian; Mr Benj F Jacobs, Illinois, Baptist; Rev Warren Randolph, D D, Indiana, Baptist; Prof P G Gilbert, LLD, Illinois, Methodist; Rev Richard Newton, D D, Penn. Protestant Episcopal; Rev B M Palmer, New Orleans, Presbyterian; Rev W G E Cunningham, D D, Tennessee, Methodist Episcopal Church South; Prof Austin Phelps, D D, Massachusetts, Congregationalist; Rev Jno A Broaddus, D D, Kentucky, Baptist; Prof L Baugher, D D, Pennsylvania, Evangelical Lutheran; Rev Jas A Warden, New Jersey, Presbyterian; Rev D H McVivar, L L D, Quebec, Presbyterian; Rev John Potts, D D, Ontario, Methodist. A new executive committee for the next 3 years was appointed, with Franklin Hall, of New York, chairman.

To-night, after addresses from Dr. Leftwich of Atlanta, and several voluntary speeches on the promotion of the Sunday School work, the convention adjourned sine die.

There will be a grand children's jubilee to-morrow.

Forty-Fifth Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Representative Hartridge's bill to prevent the introduction of infective diseases, was verbally amended by the Senate and was, on his motion, taken from the table and passed. It now goes to the President.

The whole Louisiana delegation have remonstrated against the insufficiency of the appropriation by the Committee of Commerce for Louisana. The committee this morning heard argument from Acklin in favor of an appropriation for Lafourche, and from Ellis, in behalf of Red river and New Orleans harbor.

HOUSE.—The adjournment resolution was postponed to the 15th of May. The Republicans, by dilatory motions, prevented the consideration of the William and Mary College bill.

The House is in session to night.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The committee on Indian Affairs decided to report a bill paying derelict interest between 1861 and 1866, due the Chickasaw nation, amounting to $220,000.

The House committee on banking and currency had a very interesting conference this morning with Messrs. John A. Stewart, of the United States Trust Company of New York, and Mr. J. D. Vermilye, of the Merchants' Bank of New York. The question of the practicability of maintaining resumption was pressed upon these gentlemen by Mr. Ewing, but they held inflexibly to the position that resumption can safely be entered upon on the first of January, 1879, and that with the present favorable outlook of good crops, and the balance of trade in favor of this country, resumption can be maintained easily. They expressed a belief, however, that the maintenance of specie payments would not be assured unless a portion of the currency circulation is retired and the foreign exchanges continue to be in our favor. Mr. Vermilye thought that 100 or 150 million dollars of the outstanding United States notes should be retired in order to make specie resumption entirely safe.

The phonograph displayed itself successfully, both at the National Academy of Science and at the Capitol, and afterwards, with its inventor, was photographed by General Brady.

The State Department has official advices that the recognition of the Diaz government by the United States, was received with delight by the citizens of Mexico.

Marine Intelligence.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The bark "Olustie," 109 days from Pedang with coffee, reports that she encountered numerous gales, during one of which she shipped a sea, which damaged her cargo. When nine days out she lost her second officer through a deadly malaria engendered by the green state of the cargo. The hands were all sick, and the vessel was worked by three sickly seamen. The bunks were removed to the decks, which produced better health among the crew.

FORTRESS MONROE, VA., April 19.—The United States flagship "Omaha" arrived at Hampton Roads from St. Thomas, all well.

KITTY HAWK, N. C., April 19.—A vessel's quarter board, with the name of Dan Simmons carved on it, came ashore during the late storm.

PORTLAND, ME., April 19.—The schooner "Lady Woodbury," hence for Jamaica on January 17, which put into Gloucester on the 19th January, not having been heard from since, is given up for lost. The crew consisted of Capt. T. D. Woodbury, of Cape Elizabeth, and four men.

The Charter Oak to be Revised.

HARTFORD, April 19.—Three hundred policy holders of the Charter Oak Life Insurance Company held a meeting with the intention to revive the concern, on the mutual basis. The policies of over $5,000,000 voted for new organization. The officers will be elected the first Monday in May.

The Big Strike.

LONDON, April 19.—At Blackburn, Darwen, Burnley, Lower Hower, Padihan, Accrington Church, Oswaldtwistle, Rushton, Great Harwood and Boxenden, the strike of cotton operatives is practically universal.

The Paris Exposition.

PARIS, April 19.—Arrangements for the opening exhibition on the first of May have been settled at the Cabinet Council.

The Gallows.

AIKEN, S. C., April 19.—Robert McEvoy, who killed Major J. J. Gregg at Graniteville in 1876, was hanged here to-day.

Observing the Day.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—To-day being a legal holiday, the Commercial and Stock Exchanges are both closed.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

AN IMPOSING ASSEMBLAGE.

The Opening Day---Gov. Colquitt Presides--Eloquent Address----The North Carolina Delegates.

(Special correspondence of the News.)

ATLANTA, GA., April 18, 1878.

THE TRIP TO THE GATE CITY.

Your correspondent left Raleigh on Tuesday morning, going by the new route to Charlotte, via R. & A. L. Road to Hamlet, and from then to Charlotte via C. C. Road. These roads are in most excellent condition, and we find that all on the line of the road, and at Charlotte and elsewhere, the public are anxiously waiting for the fast schedule which is promised to be put on this route. On arriving at Charlotte we spent an hour and a half most pleasantly, meeting at the hotel the genial and popular Col. Wm. Johnston, also Dr. Gibbons, John L. Morehead, and others; they all wanted the NEWS with Capt. Shotwell's card, and by the way, they say you must send their papers by the R. & A. A. Line route, so that they can get them at night, instead of the next morning as they now do, by the North Carolina Road. At 10:30 the Air-Line train came up literally freighted down with delegates to the great Sunday-School Convention. We had delegates from all parts of the North and West, and from Canada. Prominent among them was Dr. John Hall, of New York city. The equipment and all the appointments of the Air-Line Road are fully up to the improvements of the age, and with lightning speed we were safely hurried on to our destination, making the 269 miles in a little over 10 hours. Here we found the city thronged with the delegates—over five hundred—besides their friends, and also a vast crowd of visitors from all the adjoining States.

Our delegates at once repaired to the 1st Baptist Church, where we found the beautiful church exquisitely decorated with most beautiful flowers, and every device, and motto appropriate for such an occasion, indicating the good taste and culture of the fair daughters of Georgia.

OPENING OF THE CONVENTION.

At 10:30 A. M. the Convention was called to order by Rev. John E. Searles, of Connecticut, who nominated as temporary President, Rev. Geo. A. Petty, who, by the way, is one of the most efficient presiding officers it has been our good fortune to meet.

Mayor Angier, of this city, opened the meeting with an address of welcome on the part of the city, and, in concluding, introduced Governor Colquitt, who gave a most beautiful and touching address of welcome on the part of the State of Georgia. The responses to these addresses of welcome were delivered by Rev. Dr. John Potts, of Canada, and General Clinton B. Fiske, of New York. They were most eloquent and appropriate.

The large congregation had the pleasure of hearing the "Sunday-School March," a beautiful song written by Dr. Gwine, pastor of the First Baptist Church, set to music and printed in Atlanta. Mr. J. C. Courtney sang the words as a solo to the stirring air of the "Marseillaise," the entire congregation joining in the superb chorus. The effect was decided and was much enjoyed.

Your readers will no doubt remember Mr. Courtney, who was for some time a citizen of Raleigh, and, I believe, sang in the Baptist Choir.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

A committee of one from each State and one from Canada were appointed to report officers for the permanent organization. Rev. Dr. Pritchard was appointed on this committee on part of the N. C. Delegation.

This committee reported the nomination of Gov. Colquitt as Permanent President, which nomination was enthusiastically and unanimously confirmed. The Vice President from North Carolina is Prof. W. C. Doub, of Greensboro, and Jno. E. Ray of our city, is one of the five Secretaries. At the evening session the large church was densely packed, and the convention being called to order by the President, were led in prayer by the venerable Dr. W. S. Plumer, of Columbia, S. C., and then the report of the International Sunday School committee was read by Rev Warren Randolph, D D, of Indianopolis. The report is a very able document, and is full of interest to the whole Sunday School world, and will be published in all the Sunday School papers of the land. After the reading of the very important report, the was introduced. He was received with applause. Dr. Hall is a striking-looking man. He is of large stature, and his figure is made more striking by the peculiar manner in which his finely-shaped head is carried, somewhat in advance of his body. His face shows his Scotch-Irish descent plainly, and at the same time gives evidence of fine culture. His eyes are dark gray and unusually bright and penetrating. His features are all good and his high forehead rises to a covering of gray hair. He wears no beard and presents a decidedly clerical appearance. His enunciation is distinct, with decided brogue. His voice is strong and when he speaks it is apparently with very little effort. His address contained no studied attempt at oratorical effect. His theme was the International Sunday school lessons and the feasibility of such a plan.

After the great speech of this great and world-renowned man, the audience enjoyed an address from Rev. J H Vincent, D D (Bishop of Chautauqua), of New York, one of the best known and most influential Sunday-school workers in America. His address, like that of Dr. Hall, related to the international lesson system, which he said was doing a great work in spreading the word of God.

AN IMPOSING ASSEMBLAGE.

The whole services of this the first day of the convention were most impressive, and it is said that there has never been a convention of any kind in this country so imposing in every particular—being participated in by the most commanding talent and eloquence of every branch of the church of God, as well as of the political, commercial, financial and agricultural interests of our own country and Canada. The Sunday School writers all over the world are looking with intense interest to the deliberations and result of this great convention and they will not be disappointed.

DELEGATES FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

The following are the delegates from North Carolina:

Rev T H Pritchard, D D, Samuel C White, John E Ray, Corresponding Secretary, B S Con. A M McPheeters, John A Cheatham, Raleigh; Gen Robt D Johnston, Dr T C Smith, Dr F Scarr, Charlotte; Rev N B Cobb, Lilesville; W R Odell, Esq, Concord; John A Ramsey, Rev J J Renn, Salisbury; W C Doub, Chas G Yeates, Greensboro; Baker White, Macon.

Our State is far behind in the organized Sunday School work of the day, and we hope our delegates will go home infused with the spirit of the convention, and go to work to thoroughly organize the full work in our State. The session of the second day is now going on, a full report of which will be given in our next letter, when we will also give our impressions of the "Queen City" of the South, and her noble and honorable citizens.

To-night Gov. Colquitt gives a social reception to the convention at the Executive Mansion. M.

ROBESON COUNTY.

Favorites for the Supreme Court --Shotwell's Vindication--Local Matters.

(Special Correspondence of the News.)

LUMBERTON, N. C., April 18.

As a reader of the Daily, we are glad to see so much "news" from the various portions of the State, and the discussion of questions which are of interest to the people; and of candidates who may or may not be before them for Supreme and Superior Court Judges, &c.

The people of Robeson have not expressed any choice in Convention as yet, but from all we can hear the great majority are in favor of the present incumbent, W. N. H. Smith, for re-election, and they are willing to have Ashe or Howard or Merrimon or Ruffin for associate.

SHOTWELL'S LETTER.

The letter of Capt. R. A. Shotwell, which has just appeared, has damaged the charges of Mr. Schenck, and he may be considered out of the contest, as we do not like the course he pursued towards that much abused man when in the hands of Grant's tools. Shotwell had the sympathy of our entire community in his unparalleled treatment, for no cause whatever, as his letter must convince every true man that he had committed no offense against law or society, and we are glad that he has come out and published a full statement of the whole matter, and we are compelled to believe every word he says in relation to it.

THE SOLICITORSHIP.

We have no candidate in the field for office as yet, except our present Solicitor, Capt. W. S. Norment, who we desire to have re-elected to the office which he now fills with ability, and to the satisfaction of the entire District. No more reliable or efficient man can be found in the District for Solicitor.

We are now having some very cool weather, and are afraid that we may have some big frost yet.

Everything in the way of vegetables is looking splendidly.

ROBESON.

The Withdrawal of Judge Schenck.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 19, 1878.

To the Editor of the News:

On reading in your paper this morning the Charlotte Democrat's withdrawal of Judge Schenck from the race for Chief Justice, with a view of entering him for an Associate Justiceship, there recurred to my mind the following well known lines of a great poet:

"When Rome's sixth emperor was near his last,
The victim of a self-inflicted wound
To save the torments of a public death,
From a Senate once his slaves,
A certain Roman, with some show of loyal piety,
Would have staunched the flowing wound,
With his officious robe. The dying Roman,
Thrust him back, some empire still in his expiring glance
And said: 'Tis' too late. Is—this—your fidelity?'

The "right thing" has once again in the world's history been done "at the wrong time." Having gone thus far, a little more of the "aut Cesar aut nullus" spirit would have stood him in better stead than duplicating the "back-out" policy by which he says he got out of the Invisible Empire. I was once a strong supporter of Judge Schenck for Associate Justice, but I fear now that when the new Chief Justice takes his seat, David Schenck will have a seat neither "on his right hand nor on his left." SOLD INTO SLAVERY.

An Old Negro Woman Awarded Damages in the United States Court.

CINCINNATI, O, April 17.

Henrietta Wood, an old colored woman, who was kidnapped in this city twenty-five years ago, carried into Kentucky and sold into slavery, was to-day awarded a verdict of $2,500 damages against Zeb Ward, who was at the time of her abduction the Sheriff of Campbell county, Ky. The woman was in Texas when slavery was abolished, and coming to this city in 1871, instituted proceedings against Ward in the United States Court, with the above result. It was shown in testimony that Ward and others induced her in April, 1853, to cross over the river, where she was seized and, after being held seven months, was sold to a Frankfort slave trader, who, in turn, sold her to a Mississippi planter for $1,050. For fifteen years she remained in slavery under cruel task-masters, until emancipated by President Lincoln's proclamation. This is the first slave case that has been tried here for many years and excited much interest. Ward is now a wealthy man, and the old colored woman will secure the money.

State Guard Notes.

The Anson Veterans, of Wadesboro, (Co. K, 2d Reg't N. C. S. G.) are in a very flourishing condition. Despite the dullness and closeness of the times the company expect to appear next Fair with 50 men.

At the meeting of the Goldsboro Rifles, (Co. D., 1st Reg't,) on Thursday evening, W. F. Kornegay was unanimously elected Captain of the company. With an officer of such ability, energy and means, at its head, the command is now on the high road to prosperity. They intend bringing 50 men to the next Encampment.

An excursion train will be run by companies B. and C. of the 4th battalion, N. C. S. G., from Newbern to Goldsboro and return, on the 7th and 8th of May, 1878. Companies A. and D. of the 4th battalion, of Raleigh, and the companies of the 5th battalion in Wilmington, are expected to be present. The Newbern Rifle Cadets will give a grand target practice. The company has on hand a handsome set of prizes.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Hon. P. H. Winston, Sr., of Bertie.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR:—The discussion going on daily in the journals of the State, of the fitness of the many gentleman whose names have been presented as proper persons to be voted for as Justices of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, is in many respects well timed, and calculated to produce good. While there have been in certain directions expressions of bad temper, and in others an overflow of zeal, yet this is even pardonable, and will quiet down, we trust, after the nominations are made. The gentleman whose name heads this communication is the first choice of a large number of the best citizens of our State, for a place on the Supreme Court Bench. Mr. Winston is in the very prime of life, both mentally and physically. He is an indefatigable worker, a man of untiring, ceaseless energy. His habits are plain and strictly temperate. As a lawyer, his record is known to the whole profession throughout the State, and is one of which any man might well be proud. He is an apt and thorough scholar, a ready and concise thinker, a clear, forcible and logical writer.

Mr. Winston is fifty-seven years old, but is as well preserved as most men of forty. He was born in the county of Franklin, spent some years of his life at Fayetteville, where he has extensive family connections. He graduated at Wake Forest College, went from there to Columbian College, D C., where he graduated, thence to Chapel Hill at which place he studied law. He represented Bertie county in the Legislature for several sessions, but withdrew from politics in 1853 and devoted himself entirely to the profession of law, having the largest practice at the breaking out of the war of any lawyer in the 1st District. In 1861 he (together with Hons. B F Moore and S F Phillips) was elected by the convention Judge of the Court of Claims. As a Judge his record is spotless. The amount and nature of the responsibility resting on the Judges of that court is known to but few outside of the profession. It was an able court, and Mr. Winston's record while a member of it suffers nothing by a comparison with that of his associates. His Judgeship expired in 1863, when Gov. Vance recognizing his great abilities as a financier, appointed him to represent the State of North Carolina at Richmond in her fiscal relations with the Confederate States.

In 1864 he was elected by the Legislature a member of the Council of State, and by that body chosen its President, a position of great responsibility during the war.

In 1865 he was elected (without opposition) a member of the State Constitutional Convention from Franklin county, where he lived with his family as a refugee during the war.

No man in North Carolina did more than he in 1865 to organize the Conservative party and make it a success. He was one of the few members of the Convention of 1865 who refused to sign the celebrated open letter to Holden, requesting him to become a candidate for Governor.

Upon the election of Gov. Worth that gentleman offered him the choice of any position in his gift, which offer Mr. Winston declined, although Governor Worth insisted and did place him at the head of the Board of Internal Improvements.

In 1868 he was offered, and declined, the nomination for Congress in the 1st District. Since then Mr. Winston has devoted himself entirely to his profession, taking, however, an active part in each canvass, both on the stump and through the columns of the newspapers.

Mr. Winston's nomination would give universal satisfaction, would leave no bitter feelings behind, would consolidate all factions, add strength to the ticket, be the worthy reward of a life of probity, honor and learning; and, if elected, would reflect great credit upon the whole Democratic party, and the State.

He has not and will not electioneer for this place, but his name will be presented and pressed by his many friends and admirers throughout the entire State. Nowhere has he more of either than in the land of his birth.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.

JOHNSTON COUNTY.

The Removal Question--Chief Justice Smith--The Solicitorship.

[Special correspondence of The News.]

SELMA, April 19, 1878.

I see that our Selma friends have had their town written up in your paper. This is in keeping with their general go-aheadativeness and business activity. I was afraid that in this year of elections, the Selma or removal party would permit this vexed question to drift into the general politics of the county, but in conversation with some of the most prominent removal men, they have assured me that it is their inflexible resolve to support the men nominated at the County Democratic Convention, without regard as to their being Removal or Anti-Removalist. This course is commendable, and the example might be followed by the Democratic party in the State.

THE SUPREME COURT WRANGLE.

The people in my section of the county deprecate the newspaper controversies about the candidates for the Supreme Court. We are undivided in our sentiments for W. N. H. Smith for Chief Justice. We endorse the wisdom and usual foresight of our beloved Vance, in his selection of this distinguished man for our highest judicial position. With a national and State reputation for purity of character, a head covered with the snows of many winters, and filled with the accumulated wisdom and information of constant application, what more is required? Give the other candidates the benefit of all the excellencies of character, intelligence and judicial information, which is claimed for them, and still they have nothing more to recommend them than W. N. H. Smith. Then let this wrangling between the friends of the candidates stop until a purer and abler man arises for our consideration.

HON. L. R. WADDELL.

The people of our county are pleased at the mention of the name of Hon. L. R. Waddell for Solicitor of this Judicial District. Mr. Waddell has endeared himself to the good people of this county by the earnest manner in which he has combated Radicalism. When our county was controlled by the republican party under the leadership of Col. Cook, a carpet-bagger, it was the earnest appeals and eloquence of L. R. Waddell, which redeemed the county and drove Cook away. We cannot appreciate too highly his services to the party, and it has been the pleasure of his fellow-citizens to elect him to the State Senate several different times. Should the Convention at Fayetteville, select Hon. L. R. Waddell as our candidate for Solicitor, we will give him a larger majority than ever, and which (I do not reflect upon the claims of other candidates) it will be doing a simple act of justice to this worthy man in the hour of our triumph.

JIMPLECUTE.

BISHOP M'COSKRY.

His Good Name Called Into Question --- Other Developments to Follow.

CHICAGO, April 17.

The Chicago Times publishes a long dispatch from Detroit, showing that Bishop McCoskry, of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, was some time ago discovered to have been on terms of criminal intimacy with a young woman named Richards, of Detroit. She had been employed by him as a writer in his private study, where the intimacy began. A printer named George McConnell, a friend of Miss Richards, became jealous of the old Bishop, and through him private letters in the Bishop's handwriting, addressed to the woman, full of expressions and allusions which were unmistakable admissions of guilty connection, reached members of the vestry of the Bishop's Church. The Bishop was confronted with evidences of his guilt and his resignation demanded. The Bishop finally complied with this demand and resigned about a month ago, with the understanding that the scandal should be suppressed. He is now about to sail for Europe with his wife. The young woman was some months ago married off by the Bishop to a man in Detroit, who was deceived into the belief that she was the Bishop's relative and ward. It is hinted that there will be developments implicating the Bishop in other scandalous connections of a similar character.

[The Right Reverend Samuel A. McCoskry, D.D., D. C. L., mentioned above, was the first Bishop of the diocese of Michigan, and resigned only five weeks ago. Next to Bishop Smith, of Kentucky, he was the senior Bishop of the Protestant Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. He was born at Carlisle, in this State, in 1804, and was educated at Dickinson College and West Point Military Academy. He was ordained a deacon in 1828, and was afterwards rector of St. Paul's Church, in this city. In 1835 he was consecrated Bishop of the new diocese of Michigan, where he remainded forty-two years.]

The Power of Truth.

(Salisbury Watchman.)

It seems to be now the prevailing opinion that John B. Gretter, of Greensboro, is the author of the "C." letters, particularly of the last one.

Judge Fowle, then, has occasion for repentance. He will hardly go for Gretter, unless he has decided on indiscriminate fight.

We think the Judge owes his friends and the public an apology for having so far forgotten the dignity of his position as a distinguished citizen. We once heard the late Hon. John M. Morehead called a liar in the presence of the Stockholders of the N. C. R. R. Company, in a general meeting, while making a speech. But he didn't "go for his man." He did not even move out of his tracks, but cast his eye in the direction from whence the voice came—saw his man, and after a moment's hesitation proceeded with his speech without any allusion to the interruption. He was answering an attack made on him by the late Judge Saunders and the late Judge Ellis in respect to the management of the road, of which he was then president. In a little while his vindication of himself was most triumphant. The whole meeting, excepting alone those who made the attack, rose to their feet amidst deafening cheers. We venture to say that such a scene of mental power and eloquence has not been witnessed in the State since that day. It was perfectly electrical and irresistible, and silenced his assailants most effectually. His weapons were facts and arguments—the power of truth flashed like lightning into the minds of his hearers.

The Moffett Register in Virginia.

[Richmond Dispatch.]

Despite newspaper protests and letters from the auditor, some commissioners of the revenue utterly refuse to report to the auditor of public accounts, as required by the Moffett law and their oath of office. The counties of Buchanan, Giles, Grayson, Highland, Lee, Page, Patrick, Russell, Scott, Smyth and Wise never have been heard from, and maybe never will be.

Free Fun From the Free Press.

One of the certainties in religion is that when a weak-headed preacher has been flattered more than he can bear he becomes an alarming nuisance.

The man who doesn't wait to spit on his hands before striking out is the man to win a fight. This is not intended as a hint to Queen Victoria.

The Turks will keep on being English one day and Russian the next till by and by there won't be enough of them to even make a Mexican.

The Rev. Hale says that American women can never be beautiful until they train their voices so that they can scold the cook without being heard in the parlor.

It used to be taken as correct that to spare the rod and spoil the child; but modern ideas hardly seem to accord with this maxim. A case in Alabama shows that if the rod had been spared the whipper would not have been spoiled. An old negro woman in Mobile undertook to correct her grandchild. The child bit her and she has since died from the effects of the bite. The moral of this to parents is obvious.

A Troy man tells the biggest telephonic story yet, and it is but proper that the belt should be handed to him. A business man in Troy, who has telephonic connections with an Albany office, says robins, blue birds, and other songsters alight on the telephone wires outside of the city, and he listens to the music of their warbling voices with emotions of genuine pleasure. If this be the case there is nothing to do but to run the telephonic wires to the woods, and all the harmony of the forest primeval can be sent by rapid transit right into city ears.

DANVILLE.

Not all Tobacco--Growth of the City Since 1870--A Mammoth Furniture Establishment---What Energy can Do.

[Special correspondence of the News.]

DANVILLE, VA., April 17, 1878.

In my last letter I intimated that Danville's prosperity was not confined alone to the tobacco business, though a casual observer might at first suppose so. It is very true that Danville, in my judgment, depends too much upon tobacco, for there can be no doubt of the fact that its faith is pinned too strongly on the weed, and I think if its life, and trade-giving industries were more diversified, and if the whiz and whirr of cotton, woollen and flouring mills were added to the coarse, bass sound of the tobacco horn, the city's rapid growth and constant improvement would be augmented no little; but still there is virtue in tobacco, and nothing proves this fact more conclusively than the vast improvement and wonderful enlargement of the mercantile business within the last ten years.

SINCE 1870.

In 1870, merchandising was confined to Main Street. A man would have been regarded as a fit subject for a lunatic asylum had he presumed to open a store on any street other than Main, and even that now busy thoroughfare, presented to view many vacant lots, and any number of small, unpretentious looking "shebangs." At the date mentioned, there were in the town, all told, only forty eight merchants, nearly every one doing business on Main Street, and of this number only three or four were regarded as large establishments. There were no business houses worthy the name on any of the now busy cross streets. How is it now? Every inch of space on both sides of Main Street, from the post office to the free bridge, is occupied by large grocery, hardware, dry goods, drug, shoe and furniture stores, banks, restaurants, &c., while on Union, Craghead, Market, and other streets are to be found large and profitable establishments of various kinds, mostly heavy grocery stores. And this year, according to the tax lists, there are one hundred and twenty-six merchants doing business in the city of Danville, not less than half of whom may justly be termed proprietors of large establishments.

In 1870 there was not a regular furniture store in the city, the trade not being at that time of sufficient importance to warrant one in embarking exclusively in that business. Now there are several houses which deal solely in furniture, the largest, most extensive and most popular of which is that of G. W. Crumpecker, situated on the lower end of Main Street.

GREAT FURNITURE HOUSE.

Mr. Crumpecker commenced the furniture business in his present quarters in the year 1874, and has since that time built up a trade that is not only profitable to him but enables him to buy his stock cheaper, sell at a smaller profit and present a larger stock to select from than any furniture dealer south of the Northern markets.

Mr. Crumpecker occupies two of the largest store rooms in the city, and keeps them constantly filled with the most complete stock of furniture it has been my pleasure to see for a long time.

I, yesterday, went all over his establishment and there saw every piece of household furniture that I could call to mind. Attached to his mammoth establishment is a large work shop for manufacturing, repairing, upholstering, &c., &c., and there is also another room, the only mattress manufactory in the city. Mr. Crumpecker has but recently added this department to his already "all but" complete establishment, and he informed me yesterday that he has so far found it to be a very safe venture. In these manufacturing departments none but the best and most skilled mechanics are employed and every inch of their work is guaranteed.

MATRESS MAKING.

I never before had the pleasure of seeing mattress making and am not able to judge of a workman's proficiency in that line except by examination of the work after completion. I therefore made a careful examination of the large stock of mattresses, I there found ready for sale, and I unhesitatingly pronounce them perfect.

I don't know, and have no means of ascertaining, how many dollars worth of furniture was sold in Danville in 1873, or 1874, but from the little information I can gather, I think I can safely say the amount for either of the years mentioned was not as great as Mr. Crumpecker's present sales for three months.

HOW TO BUILD UP TRADE.

What has built up such an enormous trade in so short a time? I answer, energy, honesty, fair dealing, attention to business, politeness to customers, and an upright, business way of transacting business. All of these qualities Mr. Crumpecker enjoys in the highest sense, and they, added to his universal popularity and the notoriety that the free use of printers' ink has given to his establishment, have combined to build up one of the many substantial business houses of which Danville is so justly proud. Mr. Crumpecker is known all over the tobacco growing section and is exceedingly popular with the many North Carolinians who market their produce and buy their supplies here.

A GROWING "BURG."

And thus do we see how rapidly this "burg" has grown. Every other branch of business has been more than doubled within the last eight or ten years. Where there was ten years ago only one hardware store there are now three, either of which does five times the business that the one did then. In 1870 there were only three drug stores in the city, now there are six. There was one lonely little hut of a concern, called a huckster stall and fish market, and that, for a number of years back was Danville's market. Now we see an entire block occupied by the market house and various huckster stalls, and the city enjoys the luxury of a market, which for variety, quality, and quantity of its supply is second to none in the State.

The heavy grocery, the dry goods, clothing and shoe trades have all undergone tremendous revolutions and increased to an almost incredible extent, and still the cry is onward.

The population of the city is increasing daily, the territory trading with Danville is expanding rapidly, and I verily believe when the numerous contemplated narrow-guage railroads tapping the back counties of Virginia, and running into North Carolina, are completed, the "little city by the Dan" will not much louger be a "little city," but will be known and respected as one of the large trade centres of the South.

And again,—but I have made this letter long enough, and must close ere the printer begins to hurl anathemas upon my barren cranium.

Failures.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Ten petitions in bankruptcy have been filed since Monday.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Paul Zunz & Co., importers and dealers in plate glass, have failed. Liabilities $221,000. Actual value of assets are reported from $65,000 to $75,000, and the firm has offered a compromise at twenty-five cents on the dollar, which a number of the creditors have accepted.

E. & J. Willets & Co., importers and wholesale dealers in crockery, have offered to compromise with their creditors in Europe. This house is the oldest in the trade in this country, having been in existence for over half a century. It had unquestioned credit, and was rated to be worth upward of one million dollars.

CHICAGO, April 19.—The following petitions in bankruptcy were filed today: Wm. Housborough, formerly wholesale grocer. Secured debts $4,300. Unsecured $76,000. Due on accommodation paper $61,000. Assets on 200 acres of town land. Emanuel Brunswick, of the firm of E. Brunswick & Co., billiard table manufacturers, asks that his firm be adjudicated bankrupt. Liabilities $125,000.

Hon. J. J. Davis.

We are pleased to know that the excellent representative of this Congressional district, Hon. J. J. DAVIS, proposes to reply to the senseless clamor of the Radicals on the subject of Southern claims passed by Congress. It is in his power, we are told, to show that a larger amount has been paid to Northern claimants than has ever been asked for Southern claimants, not a tenth part whom have ever been granted what they prayed for. He can also show, we presume, that other sections of the country are quite as voracious in their demands as our section. For instance take the pending River and Harbor bill. A classification of the sections shows that while the Sothern States ask for $1,177,500, the Middle States have put in for $1,157,400, the Western States press for $3,035,000, and the Eastern States, notwithstanding the millions they have already received from the public crib, want $306,400 more. The fact is, each section is greedy, and wants every dollar it can get. Of all of them, the South is most entitled to aid in the work of internal improvement, as we contribute so largely to the internal revenue of the government, and have since reconstruction received so little in return.

Don't tell me nothing of the kind, said she vigorously, to her husband, who was reading the account of a recent cremation service to her; "it is only a vile device for getting an unfortunate wife away secretly to a lonely spot and killing her, and burning up the remains, so that her husband can frisk off and marry some one else, and no one ever know nothing about the murder. I know all about it; besides, 'tisn't possible to get a furnace as hot as they say it was." "But, my love," said her husband, "here it is in the papers, that the furnance was heated to a heat of 1,400 degrees." "Fourteen hundred idiots," said she, contemptuously; "and any child with a nose—I mean, with an eye on its face—could have told you, by just looking at the thermometer, that it can't be any hotter than

A tornado at Mellonville, Florida, on Tuesday of last week was of sufficient force to blow cattle feeding on the banks of the lake into the water. They swam out, however, without damage.

Another Whipping-Post bill has been passed by the Kentucky House of Representatives, a former measure of the kind having been killed in the Senate by the casting vote of the presiding officer.

The Georgia (Talbotton) Register says: The family of Major S. S. Baldwin, of this county, is one of the most remarkable in this section of the State. There are of parents, children and grand-children, forty-eight in number. Not a death has ever occurred in the family. None of the boys swear, drink liquor, or use tobacco; are practical, industrious and intelligent.

In accordance with the act of Assembly, funding bill, Gov. Holliday has isued his proclamation inviting the creditors of the State to refund their bonds into new ones, which are to bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent for 18 years, and 4 per cent for 32, and to be non-taxable by State, counties, or cities. In view of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia fortifying the "consol" holders against any attempt to invalidate their self-collecting coupons, it is not believed that any considerable number of them acquesce in the funding proposed.

Clarksville (Tenn.) Chronicle's fire extra: Some years ago we repealed some excellent laws forbidding frame buildings within certain limits of the city. Had these laws been in force, and had all our business houses been built with fire-proof walls, as they should be, not one-tenth of the calamity we are suffering from would have fallen upon us. The present is our opportunity for making laws for the future. Several squares are shortly to be rebuilt, and, before operations are commenced, we ought to re-enact our safety building laws, so as to render such another calamity impossible.

Winston Sentinel: At a railroad meeting held here on the 1st instant, an executive comittee was appointed to take charge of the matter, enter into correspondence with the citizens along the line. This committee met on last Monday, and after discussion determined upon calling a meeting at this place on Tuesday, the 14th of May, and asking Danville, Leaksville, Madison, Walnut Cove, Clemmonsville, Mocksville, Statesville, and citizens generally along the line interested in the enterprise of building the railroad from Danville to Statesville to meet with us, in order that we might have some concert of action in the matter, and put the project properly on foot.

The Dying Spirit of Sectionalism in Congress.

"Two discussion s which have recently taken place in the House of Representatives," says the Baltimore Sun, "serve to illustrate forcibly how completely dead and factitious all party issues growing out of the late war have become, and how futile all efforts are to galvanize those issues into life and activity again. We refer to the debate provoked and instigated by General Butler upon the subject of the election of a new doorkeeper, and to last Friday's discussion over the bill to appropriate $65,000 to William and Mary College, in Virginia, to restore the college buildings which were destroyed during the war. Gen. Butler strove hard but unsuccessfully, to revive the spirit of sectional hostility by antagonizing the nomination of General Charles W. Field with the name of General Shields, of Missouri—the "Confederate Brigadier," as he styled General Field, with the "one-armed Union soldier." In a speech full of malignant suggestions Butler said that Field and every other West Point graduate who entered the service of the Southern Confederacy ought to have been hanged for treason, a suggestion which only provoked the reply that the only person killed or injured by Butler in his military career was Mumford, a civilian, in New Orleans, whom he caught unarmed and hanged. For the rest, Butler's philippic was received with good-humored derision, and, as the sequel showed, had not the smallest appreciable effect upon the vote by which General Field was elected to the office of doorkeeper. The temper of the country has changed, and Butler's virulent denunciation sounded as far off and unreal as the roar of the cannon and the echoes of civil strife, the memories of which he was striving to awaken. When Butler prophesied that the election of the ex-rebel Field would send all the "widows and orphans of those who fell in defense of the Union weeping and sorrowing to their husbands' and fathers' graves, bowed down at the thought that their dear one's veteran comrade was put behind one who led the armies of the Confederacy in the battles in which their loved and mourned ones were slain," even a sympathetic correspondent like Grace Greenwood is constrained to admit that the General drew it a little strong, and to doubt whether the defeat of Gen. Shields for doorkeeper will cause much of a run on the national cemeteries. In Friday's discussion on the bill for the relief of William and Mary College, Mr. Townsend, of New York, assumed the role which Butler played on the previous occasion. He did not have much to say about the "one-armed Union soldier," but a good deal to say about the wickedness of rebellion and the consequent small deserts of Virginia and Virginians generally. When Dr. Loring, of Massachusetts, in supporting the bill, had spoken eloquently of the claims of William and Mary upon the national recognition and gratitude for the great men, the patriots and statesman whom it had educated, Mr. Townsend inquired how the graduates of William and Mary who were living when the late war began profited by the lessons of patriotism they had learned at their alma mater? Not only the college, but the State, he said, had canceled every obligation which the country was under to either by the crime of treason, of which the sons of both had been guilty. Like Gen. Butler, Mr. Townsend only excited the laughter of the House. Even the Virginians themselves, not apt to be silent when their State is assailed, keep their temper when they heard the venerable mother of States and statesmen described as the parent of a single industry—the manufacture of tobacco—backing her little wagon up and begging the country to unload a little property into her wagon. It is all of no use. The politicians who imagine that parties can be kept up by fanning the memories of the civil war, or stimulating sectional jealousies and animosities, may as well give up the undertaking. The reconciliation of the sections which were formerly at war is real and complete, and to-day there is more of sectional jealousy between republican New England and the republican Northwest, largely as the people of the latter are bone of the bone and flesh of the flesh of the former, than there is between the North and South. Most hopeless of any is the attempt to excite a feeling of hatred and jealously between the survivors who fought on opposite sides in the great struggle. It was early noted that the soldiers on both sides were more easily reconciled than the stay-at-home politicians, and the contractors and sutlers, who made money out of the war, seemed to have a great deal more to forgive and forget than the veterans who returned maimed and crippled from the service. The outrage mills at the South having ceased to grind for want of grist, and the wrongs of the colored voters in Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana no longer furnishing available capital, the attempt was deliberately made by Gen. Butler to use the "one-armed Union soldier" for the same purpose. The attempt failed, and deservedly failed. We scarcely know which the brave veterans of the Union army will be disposed to resent the the more indignantly, the idea of being taken under the especial and peculiar patronage of Gen. Butler or of being used to replace the negro as the staple for buncombe oratory and political agitation. The issues of the war are dead—every one of them. The real concern of the country is with the practical issues of the day, which are neither sentimental nor sectional—with the questions of taxation and revenue reform, questions of practical administration—how the depressed trade and industries of the country may be revived—how the burdens of debt and taxation may be most efficiently and economically administered. These are the matters which interest the people much more than questions as to which side a man fought on in the civil war, or how many ex-Confederates there are employed about the committee rooms and folding rooms of the capital."

THE Kentucky House of Representatives has passed a State Guard bill. The Courier-Journal, in urging the Senate to concur with the House, says, "provision for maintaining the State Guard organization is one of the most important matters before the Legislature. It is not consistent with the dignity and power of such a State as Kentucky, nor is it at all in accord with the policy that has directed our State Government for many years, that we should be entirely dependent upon assistance from the General Government in the event of domestic disturbance. Such provision for our protection is rendered more important now in view of the proposed action of Congress in reducing the regular army, and in the probability that the whole of that army will be engaged in protecting the Indian frontiers."

The great organ of Western thought, from which we quote, asserts further that unless the pending bill passes, the State Guard organization will disband. "The four or five companies now in service," it says, "have been kept together in the past two years only by the assurance that this Legislature would do something toward their maintenance and full equipment. It is most unreasonable to expect men to uniform themselves, rent their own armories, and pay all the incidental expenses of keeping up a military organization only to make themselves liable to be called away from their business occupations to render active military duty wherever the State may need their services. The expense of maintaining such organizations is not great, but it is unreasonable to ask those who submit themselves to the inconveniences and obligations of military service to meet such expense out of their own pockets. For this business to fail now would show not only a conspicuous want of State pride and independence, but it would exhibit a degree of stolid indifference to the teaching of events that would bring in question the good sense of the members of the Senate." What is true of one Southern State is true of another, in this matter.

ACCOUNTS from the streams in the interior of Virginia report greater quantities of fish in them than have been known in this generation. The Richmond Whig assigns as the reason, the law prohibiting traps and seines. This law has only been in force one season previous to this—and the conviction is expressed that its continued enforcement for a few years longer will render it popular with all classes of people. On the other hand, the Whig hears complaint from tide-water. The catch of shad and herring has been less than in former years—and the impression is general, that they will become scarcer from year to year, unless some effective legislation can be devised for arresting their capture by pound nets and other fixtures for wholesale destruction. Great attention is being paid in Virginia to Fish and Fish culture. The interest shown in the subject there equals, if it does not exceed, that manifested here. With proper legislation and continued energetic effort on the part of the Fish Commission, we may expect to see our rivers abounding with the finny tribes in a few years. We continue to hear favorable reports from the shad-hatching establishment at Avoca, Albemarle Sound. As the season advances, we learn, operations will be removed to the Potomac, and afterwards to the Susquehanna.

A WRITER in the Charlotte Observer presents the name of Hon. WILLIAM M. SHIPP for a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court. He justly merits the encomiums heaped upon him. He will be remembered as one of the best Superior Court Judges of the State during the period intervening between the close of the war and the establishment of the reconstruction government. He possesses rare qualifications for the bench; and we agree with our cotemporary in the opinion that "it will be a good day for North Carolina when men of his modest worth are returned to our high judicial stations." The Observer ventures to say that if Judge Shipp's name were brought before the convention he would command a measure of support which would surprise even those who know him best.

Love's Hours.

Violet Fane, "From Dawn to Noon."

The hours that we have passed together
Could scarcely make one golden year,
One golden year of sunny weather
Midst other years of darkness drear.
Though spread upon the grass, our kisses
Would warm a space as broad as this is
From there to here!

Stolen from a world of death and sorrow,
These happy hours of life and bliss
Enough of heavenly joy can borrow
That angels (could they look at this)
Would surely sprout their wondering faces
To see how much of heaven's traces Darked in a kiss!

O, some have said that e'en the fleetness
Of these dear hours we call our own
May lend them something more of sweetness
Than would have clung to them alone.
Ah! who can say? For who has striven
To guess which pathway led to heaven
Once heaven is known?

Yet, shouldst thou deem that they have guessed it,
(The sages who have told us this)
Then would to Heaven that I could test it
And cling forever to thy kiss.
Then should I know if 'tis the fleetness
Of these dear hours that makes their sweetness,
Or whether their exceeding fleetness
Flows from their own surpassing sweetness,
Or what it is!

GENERAL NOTES.

Napoleon III, was a skilful mechanic.

Joseph Jefferson has the appearance of a clergyman.

M Dion, chief engineer of the Paris exhibition, is dead.

Queen Victoria has not visited a theatre for many years.

In China one hundred canceled postage stamps will buy a baby.

A Board of Examiners is about to visit the life saving station.

It is predicted that hay will hardly be worth cutting the coming season.

Several of the leaders of the Cuban insurrection have arrived in Spain.

The American Government has expended for freedmen's schools $3,711,255.47.

General Mite, the dwarf, is said to have earned $20,000 for his mother in the last two years.

A financial and industrial crisis prevails in Switzerland, which is attributed to railway speculations.

The Russian Consul General denies the truth of a report that Russian privateers were to be fitted out in this country.

An Adrian, Michigan saloon keeper voted a straight prohobition ticket, and was so drunk at the time that two men had to assist him to the polls.

One of Brigham Young's daughters has just married a former hostler in her father's stables, who already has one wife. She is homely, but brings her groom $20,000.

An Austrian military paper lately gave the result of a careful analysis of a sample of bread supplied to the Russian troops in Bulgaria. It revealed 19 per cent. of sawdust and 14 per cent. of sand.

People sat in the orchestra chairs on the last night of the Count Joannes' engagement, in Philadelphia, with umbrellas spread over their heads, as a protection against the shower of missiles from the gallery.

A large number of German speculators are buying up estates in South Russia, where, owing to the succession of bad harvests and the recent blockade, family property is going for a mere trifle.

They have passed an act in British Guiana by which any one killing or selling birds with fine plumage will be heavily fined. There would have been no handsome birds left at the rate they were being killed.

Mr. Ricketts, the English Consul at Tiflis, says that the Russian troops are decimated by typhus, and that from the beginning to the end of the war in Asia they never ventured to face the Turks in anything like equal numbers.

A party of twenty Chinese washermen were arrested in Boston last Saturday night for gambling, and one of them in view of his bad luck was heard to utter the following soliloquy: "What se usee play poke? Me hold four kling and a lace. Melican man hold four lace and a kling; whole week washee gone all same like woodbine."

Yellow fever is an epidemic at Rio Janeiro, sixty and seventy deaths have been occurring daily among the shipping, and from 200 to 300 on shore. A large number of vessels were lying in the harbor unable to sail for want of officers. Seven English Captains have died, and the agents of their ships had not been able to replace them.

It is proposed by the management of the Stewart Women's Hotel to open a commodious restaurant for the accommodation of the public. From this will be served all kinds of meats, not to be eaten on the premises, but taken home, at the lowest cost price. In this way the management hope to extend the benefits of the culinary department so that four thousand people, besides their guests, can obtain three meals a day at the hotel.

The English papers have a good story against Mr. Gladstone. It relates how, during his recent tour in Ireland, he took a seat in a third-class carriage, "to get the sense of the people." He soon got into a spirited conversation with a man sitting near, in the midst of which the native abruptly said: "They tell me, sorr, that Mr. Gladstone is in this train!" "Oh, is he?" replied the ex-Liberal leader, "very likely." "Then," retorted his companion, "I'll tell you what it is, sorr, there is not a bigger blackguard in it." At this juncture the train stopped and Mr. Gladstone rejoined his friends.

Seven British tars recently got leave to go ashore at Constantinople, where they took the train and went to San Stefano. They encountered there some Russian soldiers, and all went together to a drinking-place kept by an Armenian, a wooden shanty hastily built since the arrival of the army. The English, having plenty of money, treated the Russians many times. They drank each other's healths, and to the Queen and the Czar, oftener than strict etiquette required. They maintained that the Armenian tried to cheat them, and, joining forces in the most friendly manner, proceeded to tear down the shanty. They were carrying out this design, when some Turkish officials interfered.

LEE'S PREPARED AGRICULTURAL LIME.

To The Cotton Growers of North Carolina.

The Commissioner of Agriculture having decided that I cannot have an Agency in your State for the sale of this cheap and valuable fertilizer, without paying a tax of $500—which I cannot do without materially advancing the price, I solicit your orders for it, which will be promptly filled on the following terms on board cars in Richmond:

$12 Per Ton Cash, or $15 Per

TON for an approved acceptance on Raleigh, Charlotte, Wilmington, Petersburg, Norfolk, or Richmond, payable on the 1st of November next, or at 8 months from date.

I respectfully refer you to Messrs. J. J. Thomas, Raleigh; J. W. O'Neil, Clayton and others who sold it last spring, and to the various farmers who used it, who say it makes as much cotton as fertilizers costing 3 or 4 times as much. Address;

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. The Governor has appointed C. M. Hutchings a Commissioner of Affidavits for this State, resident at Danville, Va.

Cotton Report.

The receipts of cotton in this city yesterday, as reported by the several weighers, were 61 bales. The market was quiet.

Release of a Convict.

The authorities of the State Penitentiary will, to-day, discharge E. L. Leinback, white, convicted in Forsythe county, of larceny, and sentenced to the institution May 14th, 1877. He is 36 years old, 5 feet 11½ inches high, has blue eyes and dark hair, and weighed, when admitted, 153 lbs.

Meeting of Second Ward Republicans.

A meeting of the republicans of this ward was held last evening at the Metropolitan Hall, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Aldermen. The result of the meeting was the nomination of Stewart Ellison, W H Martin and Wm Mitchell. After this action the meeting adjourned.

Telegraphic.

A meeting of merchants and others has been held in Wilmington, in reference to the recent increase of charges on telegraphic messages. This change of rate was made on account of the large tax imposed by the corporation on the Telegraph company. The matter will be satisfactorily arranged. The extra charge is 25 cents on each message. The tax is $100 per month.

Personals.

Dr. Pritchard will return from the Atlanta Sunday School Convention to-day, and will occupy his pulpit to-morrow.

Judge W. R. Cox has returned from a visit to his farm in Edgecombe.

Hon. D. G. Fowle, Col. T. C. Fuller and Hon. J. B. Batchelor, returned from Newbern yesterday, where they have been attending to some legal matters.

St. John's Catholic Church.

A very handsome Tabernacle, or receptacle for the pyx, in which the Host is kept, has just been placed in this church. The structure is of wood, gilded, and is in the form of a chapel, surmounted by an open cupola supported by eight columns. The cost of this work of art was $260. It rises to a height of 7½ feet. On the door which opens into the interior, are the emblematical lamb, etc. The entire design of this repository is by Father White, and is both chaste and elegant. It will be placed upon the altar to-day, and the sacrament will be administered,

Department of Agriculture.

The young ladies of the Baptist College paid a visit to the Agricultural Museum yesterday, under charge of Prof. Hobgood. Of course they were pleased at the appearance of the exhibition, and promised to contribute their share to the show.

W. A. Albright, of Greensboro, sends down clover 2 feet 4 inches high.

Fine Beef for us All.

A procession of ten magnificent blooded cattle appeared on the streets yesterday. They came from D. W. Kerr, of Alamance county, well known as the raiser of the best beef brought to our market. The cattle were purchased by W. R. Crawford. Their aggregate weight was 10,040 lbs. We may expect choice beef for some days now.

Another Experiment.

Manager Starke sent out invitations to a small party for an exhibition of the telephone between the parlor of the Yarborough and the session room of the First Presbyterian Church, last evening. A very pleasant assemblage of both sexes gathered. The display of the powers of the instrument was very satisfactory, and the party were much pleased. Many humorous conversations and some good songs were listened to.

The invitations were sent only to a limited number, and even the small crowd present, at either end of the wire, was found to be too large.

The Presbyterian Dime Party.

The many pleasures of Easter Monday will be crowned by the best of all in the evening. The ladies of the First Presbyterian church intend giving, at the Session Room, another of those festivals whose occurrence is always a source of pleasure to every lover of true, refined enjoyment. In the society of lovely, cultivated, women, who gracefully minister to the wants of hungry or thirsty souls, the hours fly all too swiftly at these entertainments. The ladies have a happy knack of conducting them in such a manner as to make all feel at home and relish the pleasure to the utmost. The latest scientific attraction will be forced to contribute its share to the affair. Through the courtesy of the ever obliging Manager Starke of the Western Union Telegraph office, the use of the Telephone for the evening has been granted the ladies. The instruments will be connected with an office in the Yarborough House, and the conversations, song etc., will be both comical and pleasing. Thus every attraction will be offered to lovers of amusements, nor should these fail to attend, and thus relish all the more the joyful season of Easter.

Good Friday and its Observance.

At Christ church the day was observed as usual. The Rector, Rev Dr M M Marshall, preached at 12 o'clock, after the services of the church. There were also services in the afternoon.

At the church of the Good Shepherd the customary services were conducted by Rev. Edward R. Rich, Rector. Religious services also in the afternoon.

At St. John's Catholic church the day's observances were more than ordinarily interesting. The first services were those of the "Adoration of the Cross." In the evening the devotions known as the "Stations of the Cross" were conducted. Around the walls are hung fourteen pictures, representing the passage of our Lord from the Council house of Pilate to the mount of Calvary. At this service the believers form in procession, and pass around before the pictures of the various scenes. They are thus supposed to accompany the Saviour on His path of sorrow and anguish. Pausing before each picture they meditate upon the scene it portrays. Good Friday is the only day in the year in which no mass is said, in consequence of its being the day of the Crucifixion, The altar is now bare of all ornament, while the Host lies in the repository. This is emblematic of the lying of our Lord in the tomb.

Telephonists' Trials, Tribulations and Triumphs.

The original telephone, now domesticated by Mr. B. W. Starke, is marvelous for its simplicity, and has afforded no end of fun to our citizens. Mr. Wm. Price, the inventive, was like every one else, carried away by the wonders of the ingenious little instrument. He finally resolved to construct a telephone which should combine the two essential qualities of simplicity and economy to an unlimited degree. After arduous study and unremitting attention to the subject for the space of two days, he became struck with the idea that the gaeatest sound conveyer and expander was a tin "guano-horn." So he invested in two of these tubes, and by "drum-heading" them and attaching a ball of twine, he was at once prepared to open communication. The thread was carried from the N. C. Bookstore to Hunt's Photograph gallery. Mr. Price was posted at one end and gave the alarm to his correspondent by sending a boy across the street with a message that he was ready. All things thus prepared, Mr. Price asked in a loud voice, "who's there?" The merchants around were busily engaged, but hearing such a noise, rushed to their doors. Citizens on the street halted, timid ladies stopped in terror. The response to the inquiry of Mr. Price by the man at the other end, was "Please repeat." Accommodating always, a repetition was given. Several solos were rendered in good style. Far down the street the ringing voice of the vocalist was heard, while the tease at the other end of the string ever called for a repetition. The joke was that owing to some defect in the instruments, no sound was transmitted, but so short was the distance his tormentor could hear each word he uttered.

The Insane Asylum.

The report of the Superintendent of this Institution to the Board of Directors, has appeared. In it Dr. Grissom says that the health of the inmates has been good. He also says: "Since the annual meeting, fourteen new patients have been received, and eleven discharged—of which there have been six deaths. The whole number of admissions since the opening of the Institution in February, 1856, has been twelve hundred and forty. Of these three hundred and fifteen have been cured; one hundred and twenty-seven discharged improved; one hundred and eighty discharged stationary, and three hundred and thirty four died, leaving now upon our books two hundred and eighty-one. This number over-crowds our wards, originally intended to accommodate two hundred and twenty-four only.

"The questions involved in the care and treatment of the insane are of such vast importance to the welfare of the State and the cause of humanity, that it is not strange, perhaps, that again and again those who are clothed with the responsible charge of their management should seek to place the general public in possession of the facts of their experience as aids for future guidance."

The Superintendent gives a statement of the renowned Dr. Kirkbride, of Philadelphia, in regard to the care of lunatics, their accommodations etc., Dr. K. speaks of the practice of making the inmates work, or the idea of expecting them to labor in anyway, saying:

"In the discussion of this subject many seem to forget that all the insane are really sick. Although they may be with apparently good muscular developments, they have a disease of one of the most delicate organs in the body."

The Superintendent urges the necessity of the employment of a skilled assistant engineer, at moderate wages, familiar with the peculiar character of the machinery, and amenable to the institution. The experience of this Asylum, in common with others, would seem to demonstrate the economy of such service.

He concludes by saying:

"The finances of the Institution can be seen by reference to the Treasurer's report. The expenditures for December last, the first month of our official year, amounted to $4,091.47; for January, $6,280.84, and for February, $3,302.33.

"The purchases by our present Steward, beginning with the month of February, have been made with judgment and economy.

"The insufficiency of the appropriation for 1878 was so fully explained in my annual report as to need no further mention here."

Nature Demands a Tonic.

When the nerves are unstrung, the head aches, the appetite is poor or variable, the sleep disturbed, and a general depreciation of vital power is experienced. Such a state of things cannot long exist without the development of serious disease. The most active and genial invigorant known is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The absolute purity of its spirituous basis and botanic ingredients gives it a permanent claim to public confidence, and its surpassing medicinal value is admitted by medical men of distinction, by whom it is widely used in private practice. For fever and ague—for a preventive and remedy—for dyspepsia, liver complaint, bilious remittent fever, constipation, chronic rheumatism, kidney disease, and debilities local diseases it has long been celebrated as a specific. For the general infirmities of old age, and the complaints of females and children, it is also universally esteemed. ap 16 6t

VEGETINE.

VEGETINE

FOR

EPILEPSY.

BARABOO, May 15, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir:—My husband has had Epilepsy for the past fifteen years. The past winter his blood seemed to be in a bad condition and seeing the good results from the use of Vegetine in others, he was anxious to try it. Has taken some six bottles, and the result has been, that he has had only ten fits in three months past; whereas, he was accustomed to having as many in two days at his worst, an effect that he did not expect. Am very anxious to have him continue the use some longer; and write you to ask you what terms, or what reduction you would make and send me one dozen bottles.

Very respectfully,

MRS. A. C. COLE,
Baraboo, Sauk Co., Wis.

Vegetine throughly eradicates every kind of humor, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition.

Vegetine

ST. VINCENT SCHOOL, TROY, N. Y., Oct. 5, 1871.

DR. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—We are truly grateful for your generous donation of Vegetine received last evening. A lady has been using it here, with much benefit to herself, who, for years, has been pronounced "broken down," "worn out" &c. Frequently she was disturbed in her sleep by a violent nervous twitching of a foot, or the face, or the whole body. By taking this Vegetine, she is enabled to sleep quietly, and her general health seems much improved, though she has a complication of chronic diseases to contend with. May God bless you for your charity to the orphans.

Respectfully and gratefully,
SISTERS OF CHARITY.

HARASSING DREAMS.—An unnatural excitement of the brain and nervous system is the direct cause of sleeplessness, as also of harassing nocturnal dreams. Vegetine has a peculiarly soothing effect in all such cases, when taken just before going to bed.

FOR ALL LADIES

Who are Sufferers.

CINCINNATI, O., March 28, 1877.

MR. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I have taken several bottles of your Vegetine for Female Weakness, and in justice to the medicine, and to all ladies who are sufferers from such complaints, I will recommend the Vegetine. I must say it has helped me very much; indeed, it is invaluable for such complaints.

MARY E. MEREDITH,
109 Eastern Avenue.

FEMALE WEAKNESS.—Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cleanses and cures ulcerations, cures constipation, regulates the bowels; the dache and pains in the back cease; in fact, there is no disease or complaint where the Veg tine gives so quick relief, and is so effective in its cure, as in what is termed Female Weakness. It has never failed in one instance.

CERTAIN AND SPEEDY CURE.

For Scrofula.

Facts Are Stubborn Things.

A few Proofs that Mrs. J. A. Person, Franklinton, N. C., Possesses an Infallible Cure for Scrofula in its worst Forms.

The following is from the Raleigh NEWS, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:

Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs. Person's father. Mrs Person lives at Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs Person, and it had the scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathe ed the herb, got the whisky, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives, well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs Person's recipe, and Dr. —— wrote to Mrs Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ass five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless those old Indians! We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

Three Children in one Family Perfectly Cured.

CASTALIA, N. C., Feb. 20, 1875.

Mrs Joe Person:

Dear Madame—Your letter has been received, and on account of being absent from home for a week or two, have not had the opportunity to answer it. I certainly will take great pleasure in doing all that is within my power towards getting you patients for treatment of scrofula. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for curing my three little children. They took medicine from my family physician for about two years, with scarcely any relief at all. I tried your remedy and in less than three weeks they were all perfectly cured, and have never shown any sign of breaking out again. I feel very thankful to you. I can safely say that I believe your remedy to be a certain cure for scrofula. If I can ever be of any service to you in any way, I want you to be sure and call on me.

Yours truly
WM. H. ARRINGTON.

"IT WILL CURE YOU IF YOU GIVE IT A FAIR TEST."

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of scrofula from the use of Mrs Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated for more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After I returned from the Institute I was persuaded to try Mrs Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought I ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness fled before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild, as a purgative, and a strong tonic, and will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks it taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it, and I am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, is my advice. I am, respectfully,

JAMES A. MORRIS.

KITTRELL'S, N C. Feb 17, 1876.

As a Tonic and Blood Purifier it is Unsurpassed,

Centre Grove, Person Co., N. C.,
April 4th, 1877.

Mrs Joe Person:—My wife used your remedy last spring, and was I think greatly benefitted by it. When she commenced using your bitters she was very weak, her complexion yellow, and appetite very poor. After using the Bitters one month her strength was greatly increased, her appetite good and her complexion much improved. I consider your remedy unsurpassed as a tonic and invigorator, and cheerfully recommend it to all persons suffering from general debility, &c.

May you long live to relieve the suffering, is the wish of your friend and well-wisher,

C. C. TOWNSEND.

The statements mentioned in regard to the curative powers of the Remedy in my possession are substantially correct. I have been trying it with invariable success for the last eleven years, and I do not hesitate to pronounce it a certain, speedy and permanent cure for scrofula in its worst forms, no matter of how long standing the disease, nor whether hereditary or contracted, and that regardless of the age of the patient.

For my personal reliability, I refer, by permission, to Rt Rev Thos Atkinson, D D, North Carolina; Hon Jos J Davis, M D, Wake County; Hons J J Davis and C M Cooke, Franklin County.

We own and control the Railway lands of TREGO COUNTY, KANSAS, about equally divided by the Kansas Pacific Railway, which we are selling at an average of $3 25 per acre on easy terms of payment. Alternate sections of Government lands can be taken as homesteads by actual settlers.

These lands lie in the GREAT LIMESTONE BELT of Central Kansas, the best winter wheat producing district of the United States yielding from 20 to 30 bushels per Acre.

The average yearly rainfall in this county is nearly 33 inches per annum, one-third greater than in the much-extolled Arkansas Valley, which has a yearly rainfall of less than 25 inches per annum in the same longitude.

Stock-Raising and Wool-Growing are very Remunerative. The winters are short and mild. Stock will live all the year on grass.

Living Streams and Springs are numerous. Pure water is found in wells from 20 to 60 feet deep. The Healthiest Climate in the World! No fever and ague there.
